

A purple square panel with rounded corners. In the center is a decorative frame made of overlapping diamond shapes. Inside this frame, the text "Навесная фасадная система Sirius SL-100" is written in yellow. Below the frame, the text "керамический гранит" is written in white. Six silver screws are arranged in a hexagonal pattern around the central frame. At the top center, there is a rectangular cutout showing a dark, textured material. On the left side, a portion of a metallic, ribbed structure is visible.
